-NEWS AT THE HAVEN-

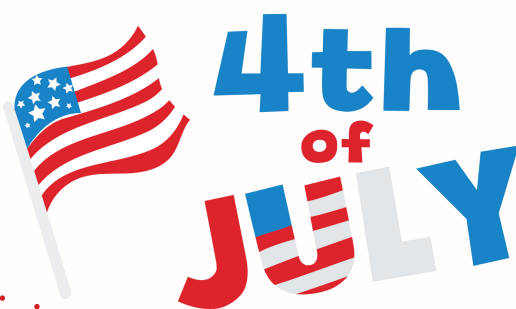

You've made your BBQ plans, the flags are out and you have patriotic dessert recipes pinned. But, don't forget an important ingredient in your 4th of July celebrations - helping our children understand the national importance of this day. For small children, some of the concepts can be difficult. You can start by discussing what is Independence Day and why we celebrate the signing of the Declaration of Independence on July 4th, 1776. A great craft and fun discussion can center around the meaning of the stars and stripes on our flag.

A great way to show our patriotism year round is by thanking a soldier for their service to our country. Discuss with your kids the sacrifices made for their freedom and take the opportunity to explain why it's important to honor our soldiers by saying "thank you" to those who put themselves in harm's way. Finally, we also have a great coloring book of Patriotic American Symbols such as the Statue of Liberty and a bald eagle to download for free on the parent news section of our website. Just scan the code below to be taken there directly.
