FIRST DAY OF SPRING

The first day of spring is known as the Vernal Equinox, which typically falls on March 20th or 21st each year. On this day, the hours of day and night are equal, and from this day forward, the days will start to become longer than the nights as we move closer to summer. Spring is a wonderful time for children to get outside and enjoy the warmer weather and longer daylight hours.

Here are some fun activities that children can do:

1. Plant seeds: It's the perfect time to start planting seeds. Children can learn about the plant life cycle and take responsibility for watering and caring for their plants as they grow.
2. Nature walk: Take a walk outside and observe the budding flowers, trees, and animals.
3. Flower Art: Collect flowers and use them to make art such as a flower crown or a pressed flower picture.
4. Picnics: Bring along some healthy snacks and games to play together. Enjoy the warmer weather and longer days by eating in the park or backyard.
5. Outdoor games: Organize games such as tag, hide and seek, or kickball with friends or family.

Overall, the first day of spring is a great opportunity for children to get outside and explore nature. With a little creativity, there are plenty of fun activities that children can do to celebrate the new spring season.
